Dear Postal Customer:

The Postal Inspection Service is in receipt of three complaints you filed regarding theft/non-receipt of mail. Customer complaints are one of the principal sources by which we can isolate our problem areas.

As information, the United States Postal Inspection Service is the Law Enforcement Branch of the U.S. Postal Service investigating crimes involving the U.S. Mail. We regret any loss and inconvenience caused by this situation. Please be assured of our continued attention to the security of mail matter while in the custody of the U.S. Postal Service.

If you were expecting delivery of checks, credit cards, bank statements, or other letter mail, you should contact the mailers to advise them of your possible loss, and apply for replacement documents. In addition, please furnish me with any information you may obtain indicating your mail (checks, credit cards, etc.) has been negotiated or attempted to be negotiated by unauthorized parties, i.e., copies of checks (front and back) and copies of any credit card statements reflecting fraudulent charges.

Sincerely,

J. Viola
